One may lie down weeping at night. But joy comes in the morning. Psalm 30

The sadness of our loss lingers throughout our days. But we smile at the memories and the sweetness of the times we spent together. We live our lives inspired by their love and Your love, O God.

L'Shalom,
Rabbi Susie Heneson Moskowitz

Yizkor is a time to remember. The memories of our loved ones that we hold close to our hearts are like a beloved melody. Those that passed before us resonate with us always, they are the chords that make the songs of our souls. May they be source of blessing, beauty, strength and inspiration.

B'Shalom,
Cantor Sarene Applebaum

The light of life is a finite flame. Like the Sabbath candles, life is kindled, it burns, it glows, it is radiant with warmth and beauty. But soon it fades; its substance is consumed, and it is no more...

Yet with our lives we give life. Something of us can never die: we move in the eternal cycle of darkness and death of light and life.

Gates of Prayer

Jewish Tradition teaches that we achieve immortality through memory. When we refuse to forget our loved ones: the lessons they taught us, their passions, their stories and their righteous deeds, they are able to live on through us. They are with us when we need them, and we never truly have to say goodbye.

May their memory be for a blessing
Rabbi Rachel Wiesenberg

A Book of Remembrance

A FITTING MEMORIAL TO THE DEPARTED

In our Temple there is a beautiful Memorial Board upon which may be inscribed the names of dear departed. Each name is inscribed on an individual plaque bearing the date of death.

Upon the weekend of the Yahrzeit the names of those remembered at this time are lit. The names are also recalled by the Rabbi during the service.

In our faith we are asked to honor our loved ones in life and in death. This is a fitting tribute to those of our loved ones who are no longer with us.

2020-5781

We mourn those who have left us in the past year

Those who've lit our lives with love are never truly "gone"

*They watch over us from heaven
Where their spirits still shine on.*

*So long as we live, they too shall live,
for they are now a part of us, as we remember them.*

EXPRESSIONS OF COMFORT

When someone is deceased it is Jewish custom whenever writing their name to add the two letters Zion and Lamed, which together is pronounced “Zal.” They are the first letters of the two words “zichrono livracha” (or in the case of a deceased woman “zichrona livracha”). These two words mean “May his/her memory be for a blessing.” I want you to consider the deep and abiding truth in this small abbreviation. It does not say “May they be for a blessing,” rather “May their memory be for a blessing.” Indeed, it is our memories which create the reality of blessings. Memories which remind us of their acts of loving kindness, memories which urge us to live by the values which nurtured them, memories which make our children aware of their roots. Zecher Tzadik Livracha - “The memory of the righteous is an abiding blessing.”

May this High Holy Day season bring you only the best memories and only the highest blessings, Shana Tova Tikateivu V'tichateimu.

L'Chaim
Rabbi Marc Gellman
